Sports Medicine Fellowship

The state's sports medicine fellowship for family physicians, offering advanced training on diagnosis and treatment of sports-related illness and injury, started in July 2015 at the UAMS Northwest Campus with cooperation from the University of Arkansas Athletics Department and other clinical partners. Sports medicine fellows will gain clinical experience seeing patients at UAMS-affiliated clinics as well as working with University of Arkansas student-athletes while under supervision of UAMS faculty and clinical partners, including Advanced Orthopaedic Specialists, the official sports medicine provider for the Arkansas Razorbacks. Completing the fellowship will enable a physician to sit for the sports medicine subspecialty board exam conducted by the American Board of Family Medicine.
